

CHRISTMAS OUTING – SATURDAY DECEMBER 1st

HIGHCLERE CASTLE AND SANDHAM MEMORIAL CHAPEL

We have been lucky enough to get a cancellation for Highclere Castle (Downton Abbey) near Newbury. Even if you are not a fan of the programme there is plenty to see at this magnificent Victorian House including an exhibition of Egyptian objects recently found hidden away - surviving articles from the Earl of Caernarvon's great Egyptian discoveries (some, of course, from Tutankhamen's tomb)

Nearby is the Sandham Memorial Chapel which contains one of Stanley Spencer's finest works, a set of magnificent murals inspired by his experiences in the First World War and influenced by Giotto's Arena Chapel in Padua.

Price £25.00 (members) £30.00 (non members) to include coach travel, guided tour of Sandham Memorial Chapel and entrance to Highclere.

Note: entrance to the Egyptian Museum is payable on an individual basis at a cost of £6. Light lunches are available at Highclere where there is a café.

We leave Stroud (Leisure Centre) at 10.00am and return at 6.30pm (approx)
