

STROUD CIVIC SOCIETY

STORE WARS

A NEW TOWN CENTRE SUPERMARKET FOR STROUD
OR ANOTHER OUT-OF-TOWN SUPERSTORE?

7:30pm THURSDAY 26th FEBRUARY 2015 OLD TOWN HALL, SHAMBLES, STROUD

An M&S Simply Food in Stroud town centre...

... or an ASDA out-of-town superstore?

There are proposals for a new supermarket on the Market Tavern site in Stroud town centre and for three out-of-town superstores—of which ASDA on the Daniels Trading Estate at Lightpill had been recommended for approval at a Development Control Committee meeting last September. That meeting voted to defer a decision to allow Setminds, owners of the Cornhill shopping centre and the Market Tavern site, to work up their proposals for a town centre supermarket.

It looks like crunch time is now 14th April, when in-town and out-of-town proposals go head-to-head at the Development Control Committee.

S P E A K E R S

Hugh Barton Emeritus Professor of Planning, Health and Sustainability at the University of the West of England

Lucas Shoemaker Stroud Town Councillor

Matthew Large Managing Director, Stroud Metal Company (Dudbridge)

Joanne and Stella from Stroud Against Supermarket Saturation

Fiona Carlyon-Mills co-owner of Moonflower and Moonflower Too

Admission: £2.00 (members) £3.00 (guests)